

Circular 0005/2025

Circular to the Management Authorities of Post Primary Schools

The Special Education Teacher (SET) allocation for the 2025/26 school year.

1. The purpose of this circular

The purpose of this Circular is to advise schools of the process for calculating the educational profile for each school and the SET allocation arising from this for the 2025/26 school year.

Each school are advised of their SET allocation as part of the Annual Staffing Arrangements in Post Primary Schools for the 2025/26 school year and each school will receive an email in the coming days which will provide additional detail on the allocation, and it should be read in conjunction with this circular.

2. The purpose of the SET allocation model at education system level

The SET allocation model is designed to distribute additional special education teaching resources across the entire post primary school system. This is to ensure that additional teaching resources are available to support young people with the greatest level of learning need.

At the system level, the total hours available are allocated on the following basis: 25% to Enrolment, 68.5% to Educational Needs Profile and the remaining 6.5% to support Educational Disadvantage.

Once the hours are allocated as above, the model then apportions these resources to individual schools based on the most up to date data available including enrolment data published in December 2024.

The allocation model provides schools with the autonomy to manage and deploy additional teaching support within their school, based on young people's identified learning needs.

The school should refer to Circular 0064/2024 for guidance on the application and deployment of the Special Education Teacher allocation.

3. How is a school profile developed?

A unique educational profile is created for each school and is underpinned by three pillars.

It is important that each school understands that;

The calculation and rules applied within the model are the same for all schools and are, therefore, considered to be a true and accurate representation of the data inputs for each school.

All data for each pillar is sourced and verifiable from within the education system or used by all government departments (HP index).

4. What are the three pillars used to create a school educational profile?

Pillar 1: Enrolment Allocation - The total enrolment in the school which is sourced from PPOD.

Pillar 2: Educational Teaching Needs Profile – This is derived from the literacy and numeracy profile of the school as demonstrated by the junior cycle scores for English and Maths reported by the school.

Pillar 3: Educational Disadvantage – The key data source is the Pobal HP Index for Small Areas, which is a method of measuring the relative affluence or disadvantage of a particular geographical area, combined with student data from PPOD.

To ensure fairness and equity to all schools, Ukrainian/IPAS pupils are excluded from the calculation for schools who are already in receipt of SET resources through the specific Ukrainian/IPAS process i.e. schools with more than 10 Ukrainian/IPAS pupils enrolled.

---

5. How is the final overall SET allocation derived for each school?

The total allocation for each school is based on the sum of the 3 individual pillars which is then rounded to the nearest 2.5 hrs.

6. Frequency of SET model re-profiling

The educational profile of each school is now updated annually and SET allocations are advised to schools as part of the staffing arrangements circular and each school is provided with additional detail on their allocation by email from the NCSE at the earliest possible date each year.

7. Filling of Posts

Special Education Teacher posts should be filled in accordance with the published staffing and redeployment arrangements which will be set out in the Post Primary School Staffing Schedule for the 2025/26 school year.

8. Review of allocation between annual updates

The Allocation of SET hours (posts) is advised to schools as part of the Annual Staffing Arrangement Circular

The NCSE will communicate a more detailed breakdown of a schools SET hours (posts) on behalf of the Department of Education. This will be sent via email to schools.

The Department is cognisant that it is possible that unique circumstances may present in a school to the extent that a school profile changes in a manner beyond which could have been anticipated. In such circumstances, the school may apply for a SET Allocation Review if the school has experienced a Unique Circumstance(s).

The SET Review Process is available through the NCSE Portal and information relating to the 2025 SET Allocation Review Process and Application Window will be available to schools on the NCSE website. www.ncse.ie

Reviews will be conducted by the NCSE, between March and May of 2025, to better enable schools to plan for the following September.

Details of this more streamlined NCSE review process are available in Appendix 1 below.

9. Guidance on use and deployment

Revised and updated guidelines and circulars on the use and deployment of SET resources have been published.

They can be accessed at link;-

gov.ie - SET Guidelines and supporting documentation to aid schools in supporting Children/Young people with Special Education Needs

Appendix 1

A review process is in place, where unique circumstances may present in a school which could require an urgent review. The unique or unanticipated circumstances must be demonstrated to have had a substantial impact on the school, to the extent that the school is clearly unable to meet the needs of the full cohort of young people, even when all existing resources have been fully and effectively managed and deployed. The school should clearly evidence that the overall level of special education teaching allocation in this school does not have capacity to meet this additional need.

Schools must be in a position to demonstrate that they are deploying their allocation in accordance with the Guidelines for Post Primary Schools on supporting young people with Special Educational Needs in Mainstream Schools and Circular 64/2024. Schools will be required to provide evidence of such in their application form – Appendix 1 (School Provision Plan ) and Appendix 2 (Schedule of Deployment for SET Teachers). These will be included in the SET Review Application Form.

In line with Circular 64/2024 and the Guidelines for Post Primary Schools on supporting young people with Special Educational Needs in Mainstream School, schools must also ensure that they have adjusted the manner in which they deploy their special education teaching resources as necessary, to ensure that those with the greatest level of need are receiving the greatest level of support. Schools should have identified and already sought any relevant training and support available from the NCSE and/or National Educational Psychological Service (NEPS)

Process

The school should seek the review through completion of the application form on the NCSE website and submit their request through the school portal. The NCSE will communicate the timeframe for the application window on their website in February 2025. All applications must be received before the closing date which be specified on the NCSE website. As in 2024, all applications received within the window will be processed and schools will be advised of outcomes before the end of the 2024/25 school year.

When an application is received an internal NCSE screening panel will consider the application ensuring that the school have outlined clearly the unique circumstance(s) and have clearly evidenced that the overall level of special education teaching allocation in this school does not have capacity to meet this additional identified need.

Following the screening of applications the following outcomes will apply:

1. No significant evidence of unique circumstance(s) in application form- review will not progress.
2. Where it is evident in the application form that there may be a unique circumstance(s) in a school, the application will then progress to a full review of the schools SET Allocation

The NCSE is committed to a timely response to a school's request for review. As school re-profiling now occurs on an annual basis, the NCSE will engage in reviews for a set period of time each academic year. All applications received within the defined window will be processed and schools will be advised of outcomes before the end of the 2024/25 school year.

This will be timed to ensure that schools are facilitated to hire staff for the coming academic year in a timely manner.

The following are examples (not exhaustive) of unique or unanticipated circumstances which have significantly impacted a school's profile and which may be considered as grounds for review:

- Very significant and immediate changes to the local population have occurred in a short space of time. For example, an increase in housing developments/social housing in the surrounding school area. Therefore, potentially resulting in an increased number of young people with special educational needs enrolling in a school. The school should clearly evidence that the overall level of special education teaching allocation in this school does not have the capacity to meet this additional need.
- Developing schools who have a significant increase to enrolment based on the previous year's enrolment. The school should clearly evidence that the overall level of special education teaching allocation in this school does not have capacity to meet this additional need.
- Significant trauma at local level that has had a significant impact on a school community and the educational needs of a wide number of young people and families in the school. The school should clearly evidence that the overall level of special education teaching allocation in this school does not have the capacity to meet this additional need.

- A significant increase in the intake or population of young people in first year at post primary level who have the greatest level of need in line with the Continuum of Support. Evidence will be required to confirm the level of need and/or that young people are accessing services or on waiting lists for services. The school should clearly evidence that the overall level of special education teaching allocation in this school does not have the capacity to meet this additional need.

The following Circumstances are not considered grounds for a review:

- Application Requests based solely on comparisons with allocations made to other local schools.
- Schools where there has been a significant fall in enrolments.
- A separate department process is in place to support schools with large IPAS/Ukrainian student enrolments.
- Requests based on the provision of support for individual young people from within the total allocation.
- It is expected that there will be some changes to enrolments during the period that the profile stays in place and that some new young people with special education needs will enrol in the school over this time. It is envisaged that this would not be considered as grounds for a review.
- It is also expected that there will be some young people from within the current young people enrolment who may have newly identified needs. It is envisaged that this would not be considered as grounds for a review.
